PUBLICATIONS

France L'expérience de Dieu avec Pierre Teilhard de Chardin – Une mystique du monde entre science, foi et évolution, by Philippe Gagnon, Doctor in Theology and Philosophy, Research Fellow at the Catholic University of Lille. Two-thirds of the book, published by Saint-Léger Editions, consists of quotes from Teilhard drawn from a wide variety of his works, making it an accessible introduction to one of the most fruitful schools of thought of the 20th century, as the publisher notes. La amistad entre Pierre Teilhard de Chardin (1881-1955) y Édouard Le Roy (1870-1954): 25 años de reflexión compartida, by Fr Leandro Sequeiros, S.J. The author states: "Readers of Teilhard de Chardin's work have often heard Édouard Le Roy mentioned as a friend, confidant, and mentor-student. There has not yet been sufficient study of what Le Roy contributed to Teilhard's thought, nor of the extent to which Teilhard enriched Le Roy's free and fruitful creativity." ACCESS TO TEILHARD'S WORKS

Echoing the analysis offered by the American Teilhard Association regarding Teilhard the priest, and recalling the words of Father Thomas King, S.J. —“Teilhard’s Mass has so deeply affected my own that I think of him primarily as a priest” —here is an excerpt from a letter Teilhard wrote from New York to Marguerite Teilhard-Chambon on November 22, 1953: “A new ‘love of the world’;—a new meaning of the Cross;—a third nature, if I may say so..., in Christ (that is, a ‘cosmic’ nature, in addition to the divine and human natures): this is what the theology of all priests must take on—no longer among ‘the savages,’ but at the very heart of modern humanity.”
